Kevin Karney and Bill Long, with SECWCD, provided an update on the Arkansas Valley Conduit. They have sent out requests for quotes to engineering firms for the development of the spurs and delivery lines. They requested that Crowley County determine how it and the various water entities will tie into the conduit. They need this information soon so that engineering designs can be created and costs estimated. Blaine will reach out Olney Springs and Sugar City to determine their participation level in the project.

No further business appearing the meeting was recessed.
